Total Investment Charges (TIC): This ratio is simply the sum of the TER and TC, showing the percentage of the value of the fund incurred as costs relating to the investment of the fund. It should be noted that performance figures account for all costs included in the TIC ratio, so you should not deduct the TIC from performance figures, the performance is already net of the TIC.

Fund review

The STANLIB Balanced Fund delivered a return of +1.32% for the quarter ended 31 December 2019.

Market overview

Global equities delivered a strong performance for the year (+24.3% in rand terms), with the MSCI EM (+22.1% in rand terms) and the FTSE/JSE SWIX All Share Index (+9.3%). The Resource sector continued to remain the biggest positive contributor to SA performance, with a one-year return of +28.5%. SA bonds also delivered positive returns for the year, taking the one-year performance for the ALBI to +10.3%, while the rand recovered, appreciating +7.5% against the dollar for the quarter.

Looking ahead

The global backdrop for markets remains linked to the China-US trade war and investors have reacted positively to the phase one deal. While this is clearly a step forward, we continue to anticipate both positive and negative surprises, given the intermingling of issues such as deficit reduction, market access, intellectual property and industrial policy being more positive than a quarter ago. The US and China seem ready to sign a trade deal and the US economy is ticking along nicely. Brexit is a certainty and now needs implementation.

Emerging markets should continue to benefit from the Fed's dovish stance and China's domestic stimulus.

In SA, we believe that the economic conditions for a number of SARB rate cuts are good and this can add some impetus to the local economy. This view is tempered by the constraints that the National Treasury is experiencing, and the possibility of selected tax hikes will be negative for consumers. The continued impact of Eskom load shedding and drought conditions in selected areas remains a concern in the short and medium term.

This asset class offers investors an attractive opportunity into quality businesses locally and internationally, supported by global structural growth trends. There are many self-help opportunities to increase profitability and acquisition earnings to boost bottom line profits and ultimately to grow the SA market earnings base in 2020.
