Total Expense (TER): This ratio shows the charges, levies and fees relating to the management of the portfolio and is expressed as a percentage of the average net asset value of the portfolio, calculated over the period shown and annualised to the most recently completed quarter. A higher TER does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER imply a good return. The current TER should not be regarded as an indication of future TERs.

Transaction Costs (TC): This ratio shows the percentage of the value of the fund incurred as costs relating to the buying and selling of the fund's underlying assets. TC are a necessary cost in administering the fund and impacts fund returns. It should not be considered in isolation as returns may be impacted by many other factors over time including market returns, the type of fund, investment decisions of the investment manager and the TER.

Total Investment Charges (TIC): This ratio is simply the sum of the TER and TC, showing the percentage of the value of the fund incurred as costs relating to the investment of the fund. It should be noted that performance figures account for all costs included in the TIC ratio, so you should not deduct the TIC from performance figures, the performance is already net of the TIC.

Fund review

The fund returned -6.67% for the fourth quarter of 2019 compared to the benchmark return of -6.70%. The fund's market value decreased to R310 million during the quarter, down from R352 million at the end of September 2019. The key contributor to the negative performance was the strengthening of the rand from R15.17/$ at the end of September to R13.98/$ at the end of December. The rand remains volatile due to economic uncertainty and a low growth environment in SA. The fund aims to maintain capital value and liquidity while producing a return for investors in line with money market rates.

Market overview

Macroeconomic indicators were mixed in the US. The US GDP came in at 2.0% in the second quarter, unchanged from preliminary estimate, and lower than the 3.1% expansion reported in the first quarter. Investor sentiment also took a hit after the US manufacturing gauge contracted for the first time in three years. The Institute for Supply Management's (ISM) Purchasing Managers' Index fell to 49.1 in August. The group's gauge of new orders dropped to a more than seven-year low, while the production index hit the lowest level since late 2015. Consequently, the US Federal Reserve (Fed) cut interest rates twice over the quarter by 0.25 percentage points each. Government bond yields slumped to record lows amid renewed fears over a trade war and as the Fed adopted an accommodative monetary policy stance. Meanwhile, the University of Michigan's consumer sentiment index gained slightly towards the end of the quarter and came in at 93.2, driven by favourable income trends. This was after it fell from 98.4 to 89.8 between July and August, marking the largest monthly decline since 2012, as the US trade tariff policies, which are subject to repeated reversals and an ongoing overhang of higher future tariffs, dented consumer sentiment.

Looking ahead

The fund continues to focus on high quality issuers, with about 65% invested in entities rated Aa3 or higher. The fund's weighted average maturity remained at 40 days. The fund continues to invest mainly in commercial paper and certificates of deposit with investment companies and banks.
