Total Expense Ratio, Transaction Costs & Total Investment Charge

Total Expense Ratio (TER): This shows the charges, levies and fees relating to the management of the portfolio and is expressed as a percentage of the average net asset value of the portfolio, calculated over a rolling three years (where applicable) and annualised to the most recently completed quarter. A higher TER does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER imply a good return. The current TER cannot be regarded as an indication of future TERs.

Transaction Costs (TC): The percentage of the value of the fund as costs relating to the buying and selling of the Fund's underlying assets. Transaction costs are a necessary cost in administering the Fund and impacts fund returns. It should not be considered in isolation as returns may be impacted by many other factors over time including market returns, the type of Fund, investment decisions of the investment manager and the TER.

Total Investment Charges (TIC): The percentage of the value of the Fund incurred as costs, relating to the investment of the Fund. As fund returns are reported after deducting all fees and expenses, these costs (the TER & TC) should not be deducted from the fund returns. It is the sum of the TC & TER.

FUND CLASS	TER (12 months rolling)	TER (36 months rolling)	TC (36 months rolling)	TIC (36 months rolling)
Class A	2.12%	1.81%	0.08%	1.89%

TER + TC = TIC

Where a transaction cost is not readily available, a reasonable best estimate has been used. Estimated transaction costs may include Bond, Money Market and FX Costs (where applicable).

Statutory Disclosure and General Terms & Conditions

Collective investment schemes in securities are generally medium to long-term investments. The value of participatory interests may go down as well as up and investors may get back less cash than originally invested. Past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. An investment in the participations of a collective investment scheme in securities is not the same as a deposit with a banking institution. Fluctuations or movements in exchange rates may cause the value of underlying international investments to go up or down. Participatory interest prices are calculated on a net asset value basis, which is the total value of all assets less liabilities in the Class Funds including any provisions made for any purchase, fiscal or other charges that would have been incurred had all the assets of the relevant class fund been bought or sold at that time, divided by the number of participatory interests in issue. Please refer to the prospectus for more details on the charges and expenses that may be recovered from the Class Funds. Participatory interests are priced daily using the forward pricing method. The Class Funds may borrow up to 10% of the market value of the Class Funds to bridge insufficient liquidity as a result of the redemption of participatory interests. Collective investment schemes are traded at ruling prices and can engage in borrowing and scrip lending.

A schedule of fees and charges and maximum commissions is available on request from STANLIB Fund Managers Jersey Limited, ("the Manager"). The Class Funds of the STANLIB Offshore Unit Trusts scheme, are Feeder Funds which only invest in the participatory interests of a single Class Fund of a collective investment scheme. In addition to the annual management charge, other fees are incurred by the trust (trustee, custodian and general expenses). There is no sales tax applicable in Jersey. Commission and incentives may be paid and if so, are included in the overall costs. The Class Funds of STANLIB Offshore Unit Trusts scheme are accumulation Class Funds and do not distribute income. Fund Commentary: 4th Quarter

Market Background

Global equity markets rallied in the final quarter of 2019, with the MSCI ACWI index climbing 7.8% in local terms. Optimism surrounding US-China trade talks, central bank rhetoric and receding Brexit fears helped to drive risk appetite. North American stocks were buoyed by trade-related hopes and healthy economic data, with all the major indices touching record highs. Europe ex-UK trailed the wider index on worries about regional growth. The landslide victory of the Conservatives in the UK general election was greeted by markets, but stronger sterling dragged on some large index constituents. Emerging markets led returns, aided by the improving trade backdrop, weaker US dollar and encouraging Chinese economic data. Japanese stocks also benefited from receding trade tensions, as well as hopes for more domestic stimulus. Technology and healthcare were the best-performing sectors in the quarter. The former was buoyed by strong results from key players and bullish sentiment related to the global 5G rollout, while the latter gained on healthy earnings and fading political concerns in the US. Utilities and consumer staples lagged, with defensive sectors generally struggling to keep pace in the risk-on environment.

Performance

Gross of fees, the fund outpaced its index to finish the full year well ahead. Sector allocation was positive over the quarter, driven by the overweight to technology and underweight to utilities. Stock selection also helped, particularly our holdings within consumer discretionary and communication services. Managed-care enterprise Centene led returns after winning a contract in Texas and announcing healthy quarterly results. These showed robust membership and revenue growth. More nuanced pronouncements by Democratic presidential contenders around Medicare for All improved sentiment further. NVIDIA, a leader in artificial-intelligence computing, fared well on an improving outlook for demand in its industry, and as it announced a partnership with Tencent to bring cloud gaming to China. This boosts its addressable market. We retain conviction in NVIDIA's technological edges and installed user base. Consumer goods business Unilever detracted on concerns around its organic sales growth. Proposals to reignite this include a greater focus on marketing, digitalisation and the disposal of lower-growth businesses. We reduced our position to reflect the time that a step-up in growth may take to materialise.

Outlook

Global equity markets have provided evidence of the value to be found in secular winners that can sustainably outgrow their peers. With scope for these businesses to re-rate positively and expectations that volatility will remain elevated, we believe the backdrop is ideal for investors with the ability to identify undervalued, long-term opportunities. While factors such as technological regulation and trade may remain in focus in the short term, we feel that structural factors driving a world which is 'lower for longer' will shape markets further into the future. We therefore retain our focus on companies with durable competitive advantages, as we believe these are best placed to sustain high returns on capital and earnings growth through the market cycle.
